Dear Dr. Wataghin:

I should be glad to publish the two letters which you recently sent me, but I am returning the figures to you for revision. They are not suitable for reproduction. Since the photographic reproductions are so gray, I would ask that you send original drawings on plain white paper. The lettering is very much too small. It will be completely illegible by the time the necessary reduction is made.

The Associate Editor who reviewed these Letters caught the error in the formula to which you refer in your recent letter. The change you requested will be made.

Sincerely yours,

John T. Tate
Editor
