Dear Professor Schenberg:

We have the great pleasure in inviting you to participate in the Seventh Texas Symposium on Relativistic Astrophysics. The Symposium will be held in Dallas, Texas, from December 16 through December 20, 1974.

We have enclosed a preliminary information on the conference and a hotel reservation form. Unfortunately, it will not be possible for us to cover participants' travel and living expenses for the Symposium.

We look forward to your attendance at the Symposium.

Sincerely yours,

SEVENTH TEXAS SYMPOSIUM ON RELATIVISTIC ASTROPHYSICS
Dallas, Texas 16-20 December 1974

The Seventh Texas Symposium on Relativistic Astrophysics will be held in Dallas, Texas, 16-20 December 1974, at the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel. The Symposium will open informally with a cocktail party on Sunday, 15 December, at 8:00 p.m. at the Sheraton-Dallas.

The Symposium is sponsored by the American Physical Society and the American Astronomical Society.

This meeting, like its predecessors, will be devoted to a discussion of recent developments in astrophysics and relativity. Topics include gamma ray bursts, intergalactic matter, supernovae, x-ray and gamma ray sources, neutrons stars and black holes, neutrino astrophysics, radio sources, and history of the universe. The program will contain mainly invited review papers. There will be also shorter invited talks on recent developments.

The Sheraton-Dallas Hotel offers accommodations to all those attending the Symposium (and their families) at special rates: $16.00 for a single and $22.00 for a double or twin room. (A reservation form is provided on a back page of this Bulletin.) In view of the fuel shortage, and the closeness of this meeting to Christmas, it seems likely that airplane bookings will be heavy; therefore, participants travelling by air are strongly advised to make early reservations.

Please address all inquiries to: Ervin J. Fenyves, The University of Texas at Dallas, P. O. Box 30365, Dallas, Texas 75230.
